B2BE Email Gateway

The B2BE Email Gateway offers B2BE clients a flexible way to transmit documents to trading partners through the B2BE network. The B2BE Email Gateway can be used in tandem with your e-Commerce initiatives or as a stand-alone application to transmit documents via email to your trading partners.

Features

The B2BE Email Gateway is an ideal way to send documents to your trading partners that are unable to integrate documents into their respective business systems.

Data transmitted is fully encrypted through the B2BE Client software (you may also select to use your own communication protocol) to the B2BE servers which is integrated with your business system. B2BE translates and formats the document so the recipient receives the information via email in an easy to read pre-determined format that reflects your current hard copy documents. Emailing can be managed so it is batched or sent as one document per email, documents can be attached or embedded. You can Cc relevant parties if required as well. B2BE can design the solution to best meet your organisations needs and your trading partners.

What are the benefits?

- Low implementation and ongoing costs
- Removes the need to manage email software outside other e-commerce initiatives to enable 100% electronic document distribution.
- Data is sent directly from your business system with no manual intervention
- The B2BE Email Gateway product can be run in sync with other B2BE products and business
- The output format is highly flexible and can be changed quickly if required
